

THE ASSASSIN

throat + ribbon

... moves

- like a brutal poet
- through the shadows, invisible
- on a fixed, direct path; a force of nature
- _____

... wears

- an immaculate suit, perfectly tailored
- a wrap of vinegar-soaked bandages
- that starry crown
- _____

... and bears the face of

- a vulture
- a grey-eyed beauty
- a blank, unlettered sheet of parchment
- _____

THE MOURNER

death + music

... whispers

- in harmony with a chorus of spirits
- so quietly you can barely hear
- to protect everyone's ears
- _____

... smells

- like hard liquor
- like freshly-dug earth
- like jasmine and sandlewood
- _____

... carries

- a list of the dead
- a stately cane of dark wood
- a sack of silver coins, a-jingling
- _____

[beta] 2011.11.5

THE NAVIGATOR

light + ocean

- a conniving mutineer
- perdition
- _____

... is missing

- a heart
- a hand
- a ship and its crew
- _____

... carries

- a staff topped with a dolphin's skull
- an assortment of maps and schemata
- a bag filled with storms
- _____

THE KITEMAKER

wind + paper

... wears a cloak

- of blinking eyes
- that speaks with far-off voices
- woven from ribbons of coloured paper
- _____

... over the body

- of a frail old crone
- made out of sticks and rice-paper
- that shifts and floats like a soap bubble
- _____

... and speaks the language

- of the fourteen winds
- of all four elements
- of graceful hands
- _____
